Join SUL YouthBuild

and get paid to learn the skills you need to take responsibility for yourself, your family, and your community. We'll teach you how to obtain and keep a job, focusing on the following five sets of skills:

Basic Reading & Math Skills

Vocational Skills in Carpentry & Construction

Job Readiness Skills

Leadership Development Skills

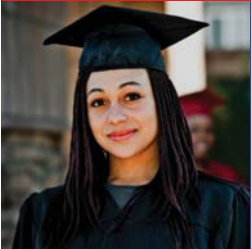

Critical Thinking Skills

HOW IT WORKS

50% of your time will be spent learning academic and job readiness skills. On-the-job training comprises the other 50% of your time. Yes, you get paid to learn. If needed, we offer services or can refer you to address barriers to employment such as substance abuse, a criminal history, or childcare. In addition, participants can earn their GED or college credits.

SUL YouthBuild changes lives by providing the opportunity for participants to find and keep good paying jobs with employers who are committed to hiring YouthBuild graduates.
